

GALLUP

names The Palace Group global winner for “Great Workplace Award.”

Only 39 companies in the world were selected for the Gallup Great Workplace Award “reserved for the world’s most extraordinary workplaces.”

The Palace Group was included in an exclusive winners’ circle with corporate giants such as Nationwide, USAA, Mars and Regions Bank, alongside companies from Hong Kong to Thailand.

A rigorous examination and analysis included employee interviews and an in-depth look at company practices and overall “enlightened engagement.”

“We are incredibly proud to be selected for this global award,” says Palace Group president Helen Shaham, “not just for our management team, but all of the 1,200 dedicated employees who make The Palace such a rewarding place to work.”
